

General Corporate and Commercial law

The Lawfirm Pålsson&Pålsson was founded in 1982. We have our office in Stockholm.

More and more companies today do business with Sweden, which raises demands for Swedish as well international legal expertise.

We offer legal advice to corporations, associations and private persons. We work in all major disciplines of corporate and commercial law and put special emphasis on providing business oriented advice.

The firm have great experience of national, but also international trade, especially with Eastern Europe, with reference to different industrial products and services. Our experience includes many different things like negotiations and drafting of agreements related to sale and purchase and drafting of commercial agreements, joint venture contracts for the development of products as well as in development and license agreements including for example intellectual property rights.

We can assist in all fields regarding a company's business life. Of course in first hand general company law, but we can also advice in connection with starting up a company, incorporation of companies, shareholders' agreements, dividends, etc.

The primary target group for our services is small and medium-sized companies with a need for advice in their business operations, as well as legal help in connection with for example corporate acquisitions or cooperation, property transfers, commercial disputes, and other special circumstances that require legal advice and assistance.

The lawfirm have a wide experience in this areas presented above and can provide prompt and effective solutions well adapted to our clients special needs.

We look forward to assist you and your business!
